code meaning

According to Art. 65 EPC any contracting state may prescribe that if the text, in which the EPO intends to grant a European patent or maintain a European patent as amended for that State, is not drawn up in one of its official languages, the applicant or proprietor shall supply to the central industrial property office a translation of this text.

Italy makes use of this prerogative and requires that such translation to be filed within 3 months from the grant of the patent. This event is advertised in the Italian patent bulletin and recorded in INPADOC under this code.

In case of failure to file the translation of the specification in due time the patent is deemed to be void ab initio in Italy.
