Effective enforcements of Intellectual Property (IP) rights relies first of all on experience but also on financial means and available technology. With this in mind the EPO implemented several projects funded either by the European Commission and or with its own resources dedicated to international technical co-operation in this field. The modernisation of the legislative framework as well as of infrastructure of IP institutions have been key issues in this context. Effective enforcement of IP rights, however, can only be achieved if judges dealing with IP litigation are given adequate access to information and training. In reply to various requests, the EPO International Academy has organised, in co-operation with the Max Planck Institute for Intellectual Property, Competition and Tax Law (MPI) and the Institute of Professional Representatives before the EPO (epi) a Symposium on Enforcement of IP rights and Patent Litigation.

The proceedings of this one week-long symposium provide the interested IP practitioner with a deep insight into the practical experience and invaluable knowledge of experts in the fields of European enforcement of IP rights and patent litigation - an indispensable publication for anyone willing to learn more about these important issues.
